

CHRISTMAS Hope

You can bring hope to families this Christmas

This Christmas, we want to share the hope and love of Christ with children and families impacted by imprisonment.

For families who have a loved one in prison, Christmas can be a particularly challenging time, as they experience the pain of separation alongside financial and emotional pressures. We call this the “silent sentence” – the impact of imprisonment on families who have done nothing wrong.

Through the generosity of our supporters, PFNI hopes to bring practical help and the message that they are not forgotten by providing toy parcels for children and food hampers for families who are facing this difficult season.

Every hamper is an opportunity to show God’s love in a practical way, to bring joy and dignity to families, and to remind them that there is hope in Christ, even amid difficult circumstances.

Would you consider supporting our Christmas appeal and helping us bring the love, hope and compassion of Jesus to families across Northern Ireland this Christmas?
